

PACT OF VERSAILLES BECOMES EFFECTIVE UPON SIGNATURE BY GERMANY AND 13 OF ALLIES

United States Not Party to Ceremony; Von Lersner Had Previously Signed Protocol for Reparation for Sinking at Scapa Flow.

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, Jan. 10.—The treaty of Versailles making peace between Germany and the ratifying allied powers was put into effect at 4:15 o'clock this afternoon by the exchange of ratifications.

The peace treaty now goes into effect as between Germany and those powers that have finally ratified it—Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Guatemala, Peru, Poland, Siam, Czechoslovakia and Uruguay.

The entire ceremony, which took place in the Clock hall at the French foreign ministry, was completed by 4:16 o'clock. Previously Baron Kurt Von Lersner, head of the German mission for the sinking of the German warships at Scapa Flow and to insure the carrying out of the armistice terms. The signing of this document occurred in the office of the minister of foreign affairs.

Baron Von Lersner and Herr Von Simson, the other German representative, were among the last of those to arrive at the foreign ministry for the day's ceremonies.

The delegates assembled in the private office of the minister of foreign affairs, where at a secret session the protocol was signed at 4:00 o'clock.

"Tiger" Leads Delegates

Led by Premier Clemenceau the delegates then filed into the famous Clock room, where were held the plenary sessions of the peace conference that fixed the terms of the treaty. Baron Von Lersner and Herr Von Simson were the first to enter the room and the first to sign the minutes recording the exchange of ratifications.

The proceedings began without any ceremony. Premier Lloyd George followed the German delegates at the signing table. The German representative, Clemenceau, on returning to his seat after signing, stopped in front of Baron Von Lersner and Herr Von Simson and bowed to M. Clemenceau who said a few words which were inaudible to the spectators. The German delegates passed on to his place without shaking hands.

Was Going to Shake?

This incident was watched with the most intense interest in a dead silence. It was noticed that Baron Von Lersner made a movement as if to put out his hand but that M. Clemenceau kept his hand gloved hands at his side.

Premier Nitti, Italy, Baron Matsui, the Japanese representative, and Paul de Lamoignon, the Belgian foreign minister, followed Premier Clemenceau in the order named.

Then the delegates of the other ratifying nations signed in alphabetical sequence. The entire ceremony was over at 4:16 o'clock when M. Clemenceau said:

"The protocol having been signed, as well as the minutes recording the exchange of ratifications I have the honor to declare that the treaty of Versailles is in full effect and that its terms will be executed integrally."

Cordially Was Exchanged

The ceremony was characterized by formal politeness to the exclusion of all cordiality, excepting between the allied delegates. M. Clemenceau and Mr. Lloyd George chatted cordially with Capt. Andre Tardieu, Louis Klotz, and Georges Leygues (Continued on Page 5.)

Will be letters and telegrams from all parts of the country, some approving and others censuring the action of the assembly, continued to pour in upon various party leaders. A letter from Charles E. Hughes, sent last night to Speaker Sweet of the assembly, attacked the greatest majority of the assemblymen as an act in which "the very principles of the American government are ignored. He said that it was the prerogative of a legislative body to consider charges made against an individual, but that as he interpreted this action it was an attempt to indict a political party.

He will deliver a brief address. Earl Curzon, the British foreign secretary, who will represent Great Britain at the meeting also will speak.

U. S. Not Represented.

Washington, Jan. 10.—President Wilson is expected to sign the call for the first meeting of the league of nations council immediately after ratification of the treaty. The United States will not be represented at the meeting.

Provision for the president to issue the call for the initial meeting of the council is made in the treaty. The call Mr. Wilson would not be acting in his capacity as president of the United States.

League Steadily Increasing

The coming into force of the treaty through exchange of ratification today between Great Britain, France, Italy, and Germany will not affect the United States, officials said. TRAVELERS' REPORTS OF OVERTHROW OF GERMANY DOUBTED

(By Associated Press.)

Brussels, Jan. 10.—Travelers from Germany reaching here today brought unconfirmed reports that the German government has been overthrown.

It was reported that the socialists were masters of the situation and that a general strike had been declared throughout the territory not under allied occupation.

The Brussels report of a German government overthrow and control issued from any clear source and it may be noted that the dispatches themselves carry their own qualifications, emphasizing the lack of positive information.

If it should prove true that there has been a new uprising in Germany, it would appear to have been deliberately timed to coincide with the date set for putting the treaty of Versailles into effect and creating a state of peace between Germany and the allied powers.

London Has No Report

London, Jan. 10.—In connection with the unconfirmed reports from Brussels of a German government overthrow, messages from Berlin by way of Copenhagen this morning do not indicate that anything of an extraordinary nature had been foreseen in Germany up to late last evening.

History of Peace

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, Jan. 10.—Peaceful relations between Germany and the greater number of the nations engaged in the great war with her are established by the action taken at Paris today.

Great Britain was the first of the five great powers represented in the supreme council of the peace conference to take such action, being followed in succession by France, Italy, and Japan. The United States alone of the big five has not ratified the treaty. As the lists show, formal ratifications have been given by most of the smaller powers signatory to the treaty. China did not ratify the document because of her objections to the Shantung provisions and proclaimed a state of peace with Germany.

The all important ratification by Germany was given yesterday in the form of a law which President Wilson presented to the United States senate.

The making of the peace which followed the conclusion of the armistice of November 11, 1918, which ended the great war, was the longest and most difficult of the peace conference at Versailles on Jan. 18, 1919, and the signing of the treaty was occupied with almost daily conferences of the representatives of the nations which had been at war with Germany and had broken relations with her. The principal parts being taken by delegates of France, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, and the United States. The first im-

ALL DIAMONDS EVER MINED COULD BE PUT IN ONE CLOSET

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, (By Mail).—If all the diamonds mined in history and existing today as cut and polished gems were gathered from the ends of the earth, they would form a pile about as large as a wagon load of coal dumped on the sidewalk, says a Chicago statistical expert.
The pile would contain 46,555,474 carats and the gems would weigh 10 1/2 tons. Reckoning the diamonds at $200 a carat, it would have a value of $9,311,094,800. All the world's diamonds could be packed in an ordinary clothes closet or a kitchen pantry.
This estimate is based on an approximation of the total output of diamonds in the world's history. India, it is estimated, has produced, all told, 60,000,000 carats; Brazil, 15,000,000; South Africa, 10,500,000; Borneo, 2,000,000; British Guiana, 50,000; Australia, 15,000; China, 2,000; St. Australia, 150,000; China, 1,000. It is a total rough count of 236,774 carats or 55.25 tons of diamonds.
Only about 50 percent of rough diamonds are in the rough and lose about 50 percent of their weight in being cut and polished. Diamonds are practically indestructible and are not damaged by fire. They may possibly still be in existence. But the estimate allows for the loss of at least 1,000,000 carats by fire, theft and other disasters. These reductions and losses leave a total of cut and polished diamonds at 46,555,474 carats.
The estimate of $200 a carat is the minimum price at which diamonds can be bought today. The popular demand for diamonds was never greater and they have become the gem of working people as well as the wealthy classes. They are worth three times as much now as before the war. They sell at from $300 to $1,000 a carat.

Soldiers Frown on Utopia Home on Queen's Islands

(By Associated Press.)
Victoria, B. C. (By Mail).—Dispatches from Ottawa and information received by provincial authorities seem to indicate that the proposal to settle the Queen Charlotte Islands with former imperial soldiers has fallen through for the present at least. The plan was to organize farming and fishing colonies into Utopian settlements with returned service men from all of the British colonies. It is understood that the Great War Veterans association frowned upon the idea. One of the reasons given for refusal of the Soldiers' Settlement board to lend financial assistance for the scheme was the fact that many of the soldiers anxious to settle on the island knew nothing about farming or fishing.

Who is to be a boy?
A man with a new job.
When your father was a boy, he was told that he would not need to study to be a business man. If a boy decided to go into business, his father would tell him, "Why study? It is going to be a business man. In't it?" Just think of what he might be!

But now a business man's work is often so important that it is hard to get on without it. Think of a corporation with 3,000 employees. Engineers design its machines, inventors invent its tools, bankers advance it money. But somewhere there must be a man wise enough to take all these machines, tools, money and work them together successfully. A production engineer is a man who can make men, machines, and money work together more efficiently and harmoniously. He is the man who can make a business.

Boys do not know that a production engineer is a man who can make a business. But if they study, they can learn to be a production engineer. They can learn to be a man who can make men, machines, and money work together more efficiently and harmoniously. They can learn to be a man who can make a business.

What Shall I Be?
Answered for Girls
The Telegraph Operator
By Elizabeth Mateer
Janet and Edith decided in their junior year in high school that they would like to become telegraph operators. By saving their allowance, they were able to buy a five dollar typewriter. Edith's father, who was an electrician, fitted up their battery and made the connection between the two neighboring rooms. When the girls took their first lesson, they were soon sending messages back and forth. Visits to the local telegraph office acquainted them with the customary intervals. After graduation, they passed the tests required by the Postal Union Company and started the service as check girls. At the end of a month they were given newspaper switchboards and in a year were trained operators. They had many of the office offer courses in telegraphy, but for the girl who cannot avail herself of these, the practical course offered by the telegraph company will prove sufficient if she is a high school graduate. A general education with an accent on English, mathematics, and penmanship is necessary.

The girl who passes the mental and physical tests required must have ability to concentrate, a patient disposition, strong nerves, and excellent hearing. Young girls have an advantage because their ears can be more easily trained.

For a number of years now, girls have been finding opportunities in this new work. Promotions are being won by accuracy, rapidity, and general reliability. Many girls lost their positions through careless mistakes and spelling. The pay and hours are much better than those of the telephone operator. One of the most coveted positions for a girl is in the subject in the library of her home town or can procure the names of such books by writing to one of the big telegraph companies.

Around the State

Milwaukee.—Daniel C. Roper, commissioner of internal revenue, and John J. Kramer, U. S. prohibition commissioner, visited Sunday, January 10, at Rock Island, where they observed the national as "Law and Order Sunday," with special reference to the observance of the prohibition amendment, says a letter from the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league to Wisconsin clergymen, sent at the request of these officers.

Anizgo.—Dr. Edward Fish, medical missionary in China, now in this country on a leave of absence, is visiting his brothers, Charles W. Fish and Don Fish, at Elcho. Mr. Fish has his station at Anizgo, a city of 50,000 population, so far in the interior that the trip from there to Elcho required 15 weeks, three-fourths of that time being consumed in getting to the Chinese coast. For eight years he had not heard English spoken, and when he got to his port of departure he had to use an interpreter for a time. Dr. Fish plans to return and take another surgeon with him.

Superior.—Ex-Mayor Joseph Kankele, testifying before the police and fire commission, admitted that he knew of a poker game in progress within five blocks of the city hall, where the hearing on charges against Mayor Joseph Kankele was being held. An hour later the police raided a gambling house within a few blocks of the city hall and arrested 20 persons. Kankele pleaded guilty and was fined and the others were set free.

Manitowish.—Socialists are fighting a plan to redistrict this city into 14 wards, an increase of seven wards, and have temporarily blocked proceedings on a question of legality of payment for taking of the census by blocks. It is hoped to get the census taken in spite of the opposition and to plan for the redistricting which plan is under consideration in order to gain better representation on the county board of supervisors.

Eau Claire.—Eau Claire boys are preparing to celebrate the advent of national prohibition at 7:30 p. m. Jan. 11 and plan to put on a jubilee feast that will eclipse anything ever attempted here. The celebration will be held at the city auditorium beginning at 8:15 on the evening of Friday, Jan. 16, and will last until one minute after midnight so that all may be present when the dry wave comes over the land. Speeches, song and music will be on the program.

La Crosse.—Butler is a dangerous thing to provide prisoners with, according to Sheriff B. J. Lund of this county. Little Jennings, held here on charge of burglary, made good use of it in his recent and almost successful attempt to escape. The Butler, mixed with some of the furniture, made a substance which furnished him with light for his night work. A strip torn from his shirt made a wick, with the improved candle he worked nights on the floor of the cell, making a hole large enough to let him through. A short tunnel was dug from the cell to the wall, which would have been easy picking for him had he not been discovered. Jennings was able to work unmolested, and the jailers were with him in the cell at the time.

FAMOUS CASTLE TO BE GIVEN TO HAIG FOR WAR SERVICE

(By Associated Press.)
London, (By Mail).—The prophecy of Thomas the Rhymer, who wrote "The way may betide," bids fair to be fulfilled. A movement is on foot to purchase the Scottish estates of Bemsyde together with the historic mansion and present them to Earl Haig, (who adopted the designation of Earl Bemsyde) on his elevation to the peerage as a record of the British people's admiration for his triumphant leadership of the British armies during the war. The property is now owned by Lieut. Col. A. B. Haig.
It was to Bemsyde where Turner, the painter, was taken by Sir Walter Scott, the poet, for the purpose of making drawings to illustrate the scenes of Scott's novels.
The estates, which include the famous mansion, have an area of 1,300 acres and the market value is put at $268,000 for which sum it has been offered to the nation. They have been owned and occupied by the Haigs continuously for more than seven centuries.
Bemsyde is situated in the parish of Abernethy in the center of a district which for more than 800 years was the battleground of two hostile nationalities, the Scotch and the English, never ceasing internal conflict, rapine and destruction.
Of the hundreds of forts and castles which once existed on the Scottish side of the border, Bemsyde is the only one that is still inhabited. It is a manorial residence of the Scottish nobles, and the place where the original founders, Bemsyde House itself stands on an elevated rocky bluff overlooking one of the most fertile valleys in Scotland. The river Tweed, on the opposite bank of the river is the promontory of Old Melrose, the spot on which the castle of Melrose stood more than 1200 years ago, upheld the symbols of Christianity.
Contributions toward the purchase of the estate are to be accepted by every bank in England.

MINING INDUSTRY IN NEED OF BETTER RAILS

(By Associated Press.)
Laredo, Tex., (By Mail).—Rehabilitation of the railroads is most needed to bring about revival of Mexico's mining industry. In the opinion of American mining engineers and mine owners who recently inspected foreign-owned properties in the northern provinces of Mexico.
High railroad officials in Mexico City are working toward this end and have announced that improvements contemplated and purchase of additional rolling stock will be made. Even with such improvements, the Americans pointed out, the railroads will be of little assistance for many years to come, as there is not now sufficient transportation facilities to move the crops this year, according to announcement of the assistant director general of the railroads.
Mines which have been shut down for many years probably will be opened again within the next few months, the miners said. This was taken to mean some sort of order was being established in the mining sections, where banditry is most common. On the other hand, the reopening recently after having been closed for 20 years, the miners said.
Mine-owners and shippers of ores themselves are directly efforts toward better transportation arrangements and in a number of cases have purchased engines and freight cars and will operate their own trains with their own crews at their own cost.

The Daily Novelette

ACROSS THE VALLEY.
(Great Inventions Series.)

"Oh, see Glub, what the mail man just brought!" cried Bla, the cave woman, to her spouse. She was holding a huge slab of stone, with chunks chopped out of it here and there—an invitation to the chattering of little Goo, the youngest baby of Iron Mugg, over on Siam Mountain.

All excited over wearing her best skin, she, womanishly, dropped an invitation on Glub's foot. With a roar of pain, Glub fetched her one over the jaw with his iron right.

Bla didn't argue the matter for once in her life, for she was a woman, and she was going to a party.

"But I haven't anything to wear," Glub protested, picking herself up. "Only that last year's kunkus hide that the mothpoopers have chewed big holes in."

"It's good enough," said Glub, grumpily. (See Winkle Dubb's "Hard-hearted Men in the Stone Age.")

Yes, and I saw Lantern-Jaw coming out of Hook-Nose's clothes grotto with a lovely hunkydory skirt for Pigeon-Toes," continued Bla.

Lantern-Jaw was her last husband—before Glub had beaten and dragged her away to cook his stew and things.

"Oh," said Glub, jealously. "I'll get yuh something new to wear, Bla. Old Lantern-Jaw can't do anything I can't do!" and he strode out the cave with his club.

When Glub returned, he had a ragged, rusty red hide slung over his shoulders.

Showing her dissatisfaction of him as a shopper of women's gowns, Bla gave him a kick in the bay window which sent him flying and gasping for breath.

The mastodon was all saddled and ready to go, and Glub over to Siam Mountain.

"Fix up this skirt a little tighter for me, Bla, won't you?" asked Glub, as they started. "It's falling down."

"Indeed, I'll not," said Bla, who was putting the last thorn-leaf pin in her prehistoric, straggly coiffure. "We're late now."

Glub's attentions to Buck-Teeth, that season's prettiest doe, was noticeable at the party. And if Bla hadn't been taken up with young Bow-Legs and his flattering remarks, she might have noticed it, too.

With admiring eyes, Glub arose to get a broiled leg of dinosaur from the refrigerent table for her henpecked Buck-Teeth, and one for himself.

Hearing a girlish but modest giggle, Glub naturally looked quickly at his skirt—it was slipping down!

Blushing a rich brown, he grabbed his skirt with both hands, but couldn't hold the two broiled dinosaur legs, too.

Seeing his young son, Waw, he grabbed up the child and held him over his neck and made him hold up his skirt while he carried the dinosaur legs in triumph to the demure Buck-Teeth.

And these were the first suspender.

The Loyal Press

(By DELL MILTMORE.)

Jest think of all good magazines an' daily papers, too. How each one has a mission that it's tryin' hard t' do. Portrayin' life, th' world's events an' keepin' up t' date. They're conscious of their influence an' so they throw their weight Against th' wrong an' strive t' swing their readers' votin' power In favor of the righteous stand on questions of the hour.

An' when I think of farmer folks in days o' long ago, How little else th' daily grind they ever got to know, I find myself regrettin' that th' price o' paper rose An' other things that hev conspired to add unto the woes O' publishers who certainly hev helmed th' world a heap By pluggin' for enlightenment on subjects that are deep.

An' I was jest a-reading of an Eastern magazine That handle all its subjects in a style that's good an' clean. It stated that its policy throughout th' comin' war Would be t' strive at solvin' several things that worry here. They say prosperity an' peace depend on solvin' eight Great problems an' they pledge themselves to aid th' Ship O' State.

These problems they've pronounced there in some such way as this: Th' problem of Americaniz'n radicals who hiss Our laws an' courts an' country—how best t' educate 'T make of them intelligent supporters of th' State; Industrial unrest—t' justify deal in manner wise; With public, labor, capital—how best t' stabilize;

Th' problem of high cost o' livin'—food an' clothes an' rent; Th' problem of election of a worthy President. An' Congress capable t' meet the issues of th' day An' face this great emergency in fine upstandin' way; Th' problem that th' chargin' supporters of th' hearts; These problems they've pronounced there in some such way as this:

Their strange unrest, their needs, th' future part that they will play Developin' our Nation in a patriotic way; Th' problem of th' public health, th' good of out-door sports, An' hygiene an' welfare in th' city slums an' courts; The women of our country—their responsibilities— The loyal press will deal with care on questions such as these.

All power t' them I'm thinkin'. May good fortune ever bless These men who show their colors an' their righteous views express. Let's make a special study of these things in civic clubs— Develop into pioneers instead of timid supporters of th' dub; Th' more I ponder on it here th' more I see th' need That cities in our nation should adopt jest such a creed.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Only A Limited Number of Ford Cars

There are mighty good reasons why you should buy your Ford car now. But the biggest one is that there are only so many Ford cars—just a specified limited number—alotted to this territory. Those who buy their cars now will be wise. They will have them to use whenever they wish.

Don't put it off—next spring, even next month, is an uncertainty. We cannot take orders for spring delivery. Even now, we must have signed bona-fide orders before our monthly allotment is shipped us. So the only way for you to be sure of getting a Ford car, is to order it now. Get your name on an order. It is your protection.

Again we tell you, the allotment for this territory is limited and you must buy now while deliveries are possible. As ever, the demand for Ford cars is away in advance of production. Heart and Home Problems

Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a boy of fourteen years and I am in the sixth grade. I started school when I was eight years old and could not speak a word of English. I went to school up to the sixth grade and we moved to a different state where my father had some business of his own and I had to attend to for two years. So I missed all that time, but am back again.

It isn't pleasant to be in the sixth grade when my friend who started with me is why ahead. Shall I keep on going to school or not?

Bury your pride and get an education. I can understand that it is humiliating to be behind your friend, but it was not your fault that you dropped back in this way. Years later you will want to deal in business more if you are educated than if you stop school now. Besides this, education teaches appreciation. Every year at school you are dealing in adding to the enjoyment and appreciation in life.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of sixteen. I admire a young gentleman who is my age as a "school beau." But he seems to be very bashful. Even when I meet him he barely speaks when I address him. I am not sure that he cares for me, and there is a way I can find out. Do you really suggest that I should be unwilling to speak? If it is bashfulness, can I break him in it? While visiting Florida last summer I wrote the most beautiful letter which almost convinced me he had outgrown his bashfulness, but on his return I found I had been mistaken. He was as bashful as ever. I am sure the blame cannot fall on me.

TORCHY.

Many boys of sixteen are ashamed to be shy or bashful. It is not Doubtless this is what troubles you.

Health Talks

Noted Physician and Author.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Answers to all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis of ailments cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

THE CONSERVATION OF
Constipation in most instances is due to carelessness and neglect of regular natural habit, ultra-refined diet, lack of healthy exercise, and the reckless use of physics.

I might join the chorus of voices raised against the use of castor oil, but I have no new way to life we learn on new ways. I might say some hard things about refined white flour and the bread made from it. I did not think of it until I read your letter. I am passing that brown bread, Graham flour bread, contains vitamins, iron, mineral salts and other valuable elements. It is a refined white flour bread. Graham bread is laxative; refined white flour bread is not. It is not merely roughage. The human digestive tract can assimilate some nourishment out of brown. Wheat bread contains considerable assimilable food. It is perhaps the most natural physiologic one can take. It is perhaps the only physiologic one can take every day with advantage and without harmful after-effects. Wheat bran is more indigestible; but do not let that worry you. A considerable portion of the food we eat is not properly digested. It is the reason why it is such a good laxative.

Here are some good ways to take wheat bran daily:

One egg well beaten; a pinch of salt; butter the size of a walnut; melted; one cupful each of white flour, wheat bran and sweet milk; one teaspoonful of baking powder. Bake in gem tins. These never fail to please the hired man.

Bran Bread

1 1/2 cups milk, three teaspoonfuls molasses, three tablespoonfuls lard, 1 1/2 cups compressed yeast, 2 1/2 cups lukewarm water, 2 1/2 cups white flour, 2 cups wheat bran, 1 1/2 cups Graham flour, tablespoonful salt. Soak the milk and yeast in lukewarm water. Make a smooth paste of the molasses, lard, yeast and lukewarm water, and add the paste to the lukewarm milk. Then add the flour to make a sponge. Beat the sponge five minutes, cover, and set in a warm place until it rises to double its original bulk. Now add the salt and bran, and give the thing a wicked beating for five minutes in a bowl. Making bread is fine exercise for reducing or doubling the bust. Half fill with this dough.

have a way of—well, of being red-headed, Ann. You're not patient. Jim is heavy artillery and you are an automatic revolver. If Jim displeases you you flip a few retaliatory bullets into him before he has had time to slyly slip his finger into his position. British Women Named Magistrates As Sex Disqualification Act Passes

LONDON—Parliament has at last recognized the equity of the sexes. Women have been made eligible to judgeships, and seven members of the sex have been appointed magistrates. They are Mrs. David Lloyd George, wife of the prime minister; the Marchioness of Crewe, younger daughter of a former prime minister; the Earl of Rosberry; the Marchioness of Londonderry, who recently opened a political salon; Mrs. Humphrey Ward, a famous author;

Mrs. Sidney Webb, who has been active in investigating social and industrial conditions, upon which she has written important works, and who has served on government missions; Miss Elizabeth Haldane (sister of Lord Haldane), who has been conspicuous for many years in welfare and educational work; and Miss Gertrude Truckwell.

They are to constitute also a women's advisory committee to advise the lord high chancellor as to

SIDE LIGHTS on the CIRCUS BUSINESS

By D. W. WATT
Former Manager Burr Robbins and Later Treasurer of Adam Forepaugh Circuses

A few days ago I met an old friend who was with the Burr Robbins show my first season which was 41 years ago. This was the season when we took in the fair west.

He said: "Dave, do you recollect how through Kansas and Nebraska we crossed and recrossed the old trails which were used by thousands crossing the plains on their way to the gold fields in California? How little we thought of it at the time for many of our roads were simply laid out in an early day across the prairies and little did we know in those days whether we were getting the short cut or a long one to the next town. Many times during the night we would stop at a dug out and wait up the occupants to find out whether we were on the right trail as there were no fences."

One night I remember in a 36-mile drive we passed only one frame house but possibly 50 dug outs. Another night when we called a man from his dugout and asked him how far it was to David City he answered that they call it 14 miles. Then I said, "Are those Missouri miles?" and he said "I guess they must be Nebraska miles, and possibly, they guess at it."

I can't recall today more than 6 of the 150 people with the show that year that are still living. One man by the name of Cash Williams who has been playing in Johnny Smith's band is located in Janesville and is night clerk at the Grand hotel.

Mrs. Burr Robbins, her son and daughter are still living in Chicago, but Burr Robbins died several years ago.

With Rhoda Royal Show

Fred Collier, a former Janesville boy, and his wife, formerly Miss Rose Dixon, of this city are in Florida at present with the Rhoda Royal show. As already announced in the Bill-board, the Rhoda Royal show closed at Plant City, Fla., on account of the coal situation. Arrangements had been made by Dan France, general agent, whereby the show could have continued a few days longer, but rather than do this under drastic conditions the temporary closing was decided upon. A few days later commissioned the fitness of other women for magisterial office when vacancies occur. These appointments were made by the lord high chancellor (Lord Birkenhead, better known as Sir Frederick E. Smith), the highest judicial officer of the British crown, who appoints all judges as well as justices of the peace. He regards women as especially qualified for work in children's courts.

Clean wiping rags, white or colored, will bring cash at the Gazette office; 1000 lbs. wanted at once.

plets arrangements had been made by Rhoda Royal and his representatives to make a tour of the entire east coast of Florida by boat. Three large barges, together with a separate tug for each, were chartered for the trip. Delco light plants were installed on each barge, and the necessary sleeping accommodations were given attention. The wagons are loaded with the equipment on the boats as on a flat car. Everything has been systematized as far as possible, and a long, pleasant and profitable trip is anticipated. A. J. Clark, who has been assistant to Dan France the last half of the season, is in charge of the advance. Mr. France having gone north on business matters pertaining to next season's early opening.

The Royal show opened May 25 at Memphis, Tenn., and confined the season's entire route in the southern states east of the Mississippi. Much opposition was encountered with the larger shows. Irrespective of this the show's destinies were ably directed by Dan France. Extensive preparations have already gone forward for next season's tour, and much property has been thus far accumulated, which is evidence that the show will be enlarged for the coming season.

Struck by Auto

Alex Lovande, one of the best known circus men in the country, has recovered from an accident when he was struck down by an automobile in New York city, receiving many scalp wounds and fracturing his hip. Lovande was with the Forepaugh's shows in the late 80's when I also was with the show. His sister, Julia was the star bareback rider for the show.

The sixth annual banquet and ball of the Showmen's League of America will undoubtedly exceed all previous affairs, wonderful as these have been, ever given by the league. Plans are now under way that will give this banquet and ball a national significance and place the Showmen's League in the public eye from coast to coast and from Gulf to the lakes. These plans cannot be divulged at this time, but the chairman, Edward P. Neumann, assures us that they have now reached a point where he can positively state that the greatest surprise, and the most pleasant of the entire year, will be given the showfolk who are fortunate enough to be present on the evening of February 18, at the Gold room of the Congress hotel.

Owing to the increased cost of everything the price of tickets this year will be $10 per plate, but judging from the advance order for tickets, this price will not affect the sale, and it would not be surprising if the attendance this year would be larger than in previous years.

Widow of Notorious Outlaw Is Leader of Bandit Gang

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 9.—Mrs. Mae Burzette, the young and once pretty widow of Howard "Red" Burzette, who was killed in a police-bandit duel last July in which one Sioux City, Ia., detective was killed, became a "bandit queen" following her husband's death and has been leading three members of her husband's old gang that police failed to locate when they put five of the Burzette gunmen in prison for crimes varying from daylight bank robberies to murder.

The three last members of the notorious gang, which terrorized the northwest for months, now face long prison terms, two of them having been charged with killing a world war veteran in a taxicab a month ago. All three staged a daylight robbery of a woman who had been given $1,000 alimony in a divorce suit. This and several thousand dollars worth of diamonds were taken with the use of guns. All three have confessed to the job.

Mrs. Burzette, who police say has been the "brains" of the last of the gang, reorganized and directed their work, although she did not take an active part in their crimes. She caused a sensation in the Sioux City underworld because of her beauty. She is in jail on a vagrancy charge.

Police believe they can convict her of conspiracy in connection with her direction of the remnants of one of the worst gangs of gunmen and outlaws that has operated in this territory in history.

Resume of Moving Picture Programs of Last Week

(BY MRS. ABBIE HELMS.)
Disconsolate flies of aliens on their way to deportation at Ellis Island wend their weary way across the screen and vie in the favor of the public with the cold weather sports of skiing or iceboating.

Slats Janks at the Apollo in "A Regular Guy" details some of her experiences during her wartime service abroad when singing and dancing for the entertainment of the soldiers. Later, on her return to her luxurious home, she has a cruel until she happens to meet a service man she had known abroad and he tells her of the hard luck of some of his comrades out of a job. She maneuvers until she gets the job of serving maid in a boarding house where many of the men live, and she gets her sweetheart Matt Moore, to help them in a friendly way. There are nice little human touches in the picture and Elsie has a lot of fun helping the boys.

The Sunday picture, at the Majestic showed Peggy Hyland in a story called "In Bohemia." She was a girl living in the atmosphere of a little college town, and was impelled to write a story of bohemian life in the great city. When her friends and the publishers said her story was not true to life she went down to the city and lived in a studio building to prove them wrong. She had some weird acquaintances and experiences which she wove into a story and thus was enabled to write something which would sell. She was fresh, dainty, and charming as ever in this new play.

The Sunday picture at the Beverly was Sessue Hayakawa in "The Tong Man." He represents a Chinese youth who was singled out by lot to kill the father of his sweetheart, or he killed himself. The woman was kidnapped in a thrilling rescue. They hide in the hollow interior of the dragon in the temple of the Tong until they can arrange their escape. The delineation of the Chinatown of San Francisco with its people and customs was well given and all the characters with their oriental peculiarities were well taken. Helen Eddy as the little Chinese woman was good.

Answers To Questions

What is the purpose of the Christmas Savings Club?

The purpose is to help you and others, to accumulate a fund for Christmas (1920).

How does the Christmas Savings Club accomplish this purpose?

By each member paying in a small sum each week for 50 weeks. Ten days before next Christmas (1920) each member will receive the total amount he has paid in and, if payments are made regularly, we add three percent interest.

Does everybody pay in the same?

No. There are fifteen classes, the payments being made in different ways to suit the convenience of all. These different classes are explained in detail in the column to the left of this one.

What are the payments in Class 1c?

In the 1c Class Going up the payments begin with 1c the 1st week and increase 1c each week until you pay 50c the fiftieth week, or if you prefer you can join the 1c Class Going Down and begin with 50c and end with 1c on the fiftieth week.

Do the payments in the other classes progress in the same way?

They do. The only difference is that in 2c Classes the payments are twice as much, either Going Up or Going Down. And in 5c and 10c Classes the payments are five and ten times as much as in 1c Class.

But in the other Classes the payments are "Uniform," being 10c, 25c, 50c, $1, $2, $2.50 or $5 each week, according to the Class you join.

What do I do to become a member?

All that is necessary is to go to the Rock County Savings & Trust Co., ask to be enrolled as a member and make the first week's payment or more.

Is there a membership fee or is there any cost to join? No.

What will the first payment be?

From 1c to $5.00, according to the class you join. See detail list of payments at left.

How are the payments to be made?

Weekly, on any day during each week or in advance for as many weeks as you desire.

What will happen if I cannot keep up my payments or discontinue?

You may discontinue for any reason at any time; and at the period when the club closes, we will pay you all you have paid in, but without interest.

When and how can I withdraw?

Under no circumstances will any withdrawals, either in whole or in part, be allowed. What you deposit will be held for you until Dec. 12, 1920.

What form of receipt do I get when I make my payments?

We furnish a Card free on which all payments are receipted.

What would happen if my Card were lost, stolen or destroyed?

As we have a complete record of the payments of every member we will pay your share to you whether you have your Card or not. The Card is of value to you only for the purpose of keeping track of your payments.

Can I become a member of more than one class? Yes. When can I join?

You can join any time now or before January 31, but preferably now to avoid the rush on the last few days.

You may join now; the club has opened and hundreds have joined.
